EVENING BULLETIN.

MONDAY EVENING, SEPT. 14, 1857.

LOVE LAUGHS AT CATHOLIC PRIESTS.—The New Haven Palladium says that an Irish Catholic named Connolly, living at the South, lately came to New Haven to marry an Irish Protestant girl named Mary Ann Gibbons, the arrangement being made that she was to be left undisturbed in her religion, and to be married by a Protestant clergyman. She was willing, however, to be also married by a Catholic. They proceeded on their errand, and the Protestant clergyman not being at home, went to the Catholic priest. He asked the woman if she belonged to his church—and she said "No, that she was a Protestant." He then inquired if she did not "intend to adopt the religion of her husband, and go to his church?" She answered that she did not. He then asked her if she "did not intend to bring her children to his church for baptism, and allow them to be brought up in that faith?" She said she "had no children, and might not have, and if she did she could make no pledges on that subject." Upon which the priest brought his hand with great force upon his book, and said roughly: "Connolly, why don't you put away this woman, and get one of your own church? I will not marry you, and I forbid you going to a Protestant to be married. I forbid it, on pain of excommunication. And you, who have come in this company, if one of you go to see persons married by a Protestant, I will excommunicate you." The bridegroom and his bride departed, and with one of their male friends went to the Rev. Mr. Littlejohn, Rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, who married them without asking any impertinent questions. The affair has created a good deal of smothered indignation among the better class of Catholics, and it is quite probable that it will be the means of making a "heretic" for life of Connolly.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Courier and Inquirer says the receipts from public lands during the fiscal year ending 30th of June, 1857, in the several States and Territories, were as follows:

States.	First six months.	Second six months.
Ohio.	$1,428 00	$1,378 00
Indiana.	2,409 61	9,525 54
Illinois.	232,690 26	122,500 00
Missouri.	353,124 01	457,441 42
Alabama.	12,263 11	67,737 67
Mississippi.	26,929 83	37,947 77
Louisiana.	41,900 08	36,456 32
Michigan.	73,000 00	161,116 64
Arkansas.	142,975 06	19,254 79
Florida.	7,263 91	275,352 94
Iowa.	161,116 64	9,946 57
Wisconsin.	16,832 97	415,650 68
Minnesota.	215,629 69	81,457 00
Oregon.	3,671 75	58,062 57
Washington.	1,849 93	29,692 04
Kansas, in the Land.		496,113 33
Nebraska.		22,408 78
Total.	$1,700,630 25	$1,158,863 29
		$2,859,493 54

The total includes receipts on account of Delaware trust lands, which do not belong to the regular transactions of the land-office any more than the $90,000 received from the sale of Fort Snelling.

The Department has not yet prepared its annual statement of the quantity of lands alienated during the year, but it is probable that it was larger than during any former period. The comparatively insignificant cash receipts may be explained by the unprecedented quantity of bounty land warrants received. Another cause of the large receipts of 1856 and 1855 was the entry of lands under the acts graduating the prices according to the length of time they had been in market. Those lands had been principally entered up previous to the beginning of the present year.

FORGING LAND WARRANTS.—A German, named Henry Schroeder, was on Friday arrested at St. Louis on a charge of forging U. S. land warrants, and also of obtaining from the postoffice, from fraudulent motives, letters of his brother-in-law, Diedrich Claus. Schroeder will be tried before the U. S. District Court on the 21st inst.

THE MANNERS OF THE MOTHER MOULD THE CHILD.—There is no disputing this fact; it shines in the face of every little child. This coarse, brawling, scolding woman will have vicious, brawling, fighting children. She who cries on every occasion, "I'll box your ears—I'll slap you jaws—I'll break your neck," is known as thoroughly through the children as if her unbecoming manners were openly displayed in the public streets.

These remarks were suggested by the conversation in an omnibus—that noble institution for the student of men and manners—between a friend and schoolmaster. Our teacher was caustic, misanthropic, and sharp. His wit flashed like the polished edge of a diamond, and kept the "buss in a roar." The entire community of insiders—and whoever is intimate with those conveyances can form a pretty good idea of our numbers—inclusive of the "one more" so well known to the fraternity, their head, eyes and ears one way, and finally our teacher said:

I can always tell the mother by the boy. The urchin who draws back with doubled fists, and plunges at his playmate, if he looks at him askance, has a very questionable mother. She may feed him and clothe him, cram him with sweetmeats and coax him with promises, but if she gets mad she fights. She will pull him by the jacket; she will give him a knock on the back, she will drag him by the hair; she will call him all sorts of wicked names; while passion plays over her face in lambent flames that curl and writhe out of the corners of her eyes. And we never see the courteous little fellow with smooth locks and gentle manner—in whose delicacy does not detract from courage and manliness, but what we say, "that boy's mother is a true lady." Her words and ways are soft, loving, and quiet. If he reproves, her language is, "my son"—not "you little wretch—plague of my life—you torment—you scamp."

She hovers before him as a pillar of light before the wandering Israelites, and her beams are reflected in his face. To him the word mother is synonymous with everything pure, sweet, and beautiful. Is he an artist?—In after life the face that with holy radiance shines on his canvas will be the mother's face. Whoever flits across his path with sunny smiles, and soft, low voice, will bring his mother's image freely to his breast. She is like my mother, will be the highest word of praise. Not even when the hair turns silver, and the eyes grow dim, will the majesty of that life and presence desert him.

But the ruffian mother—alas! that there are such!—will form the ruffian character of the man. He, in turn, will become a merciless tyrant, with a tongue sharper than a two edged sword, and remembering the brawling and the cuffing, seek some meek, gentle victim for the sacrifice, and make her his wife, with the condition that he shall be master. And master he is, for a few short years, when he wears the widower's weed till he finds a victim "number two."

We wonder not there are so many awkward, ungainly men in society—they have been trained by women who do not care for the holy nature of their trust. They have been made bitter to the heart's core, and that bitterness will find vent and judgment somewhere.

Strike the infant in anger, and he will, if he cannot reach you, vent his passion by beating the floor, the chair, or any inanimate thing within reach. Strike him repeatedly, and by the time he wears shoes he will become a little bully, with hands that double to fight as naturally as if special pains had been taken to teach him the art of boxing.

FOREIGN NEWS PER EUROPA.

Great Britain.—The telegraphic news from the East had produced great gloom in London, and the funds had experienced a further decline. We quote the money article in the London Times of the 29th: "The apparently disastrous conflict with the mutineers before Agra was the chief subject of regret, but increased uneasiness was felt from the fact of a rising having been attempted at Hyderabad, and a serious movement might be likely to operate unfavorably on the Madras army. Consols for money opened at the closing quotations of Thursday, 90 1/2, and receded to 90 1/4, at which they remained for some time, with a very flat appearance. Ultimately there were buyers at 90 1/4 for money, while for the 9th of September last, the price was 90 1/2 to 1/4. For the new account in October, transactions have been entered into at 90 1/4." The foreign stock market continued steady.

The condition of the crops in England, Ireland, and Scotland was on the whole encouraging. In England, the wheat crop may be pronounced unusually productive. The barley crop is of unusual extent, but will probably yield barely an average per acre. The oat crop is decidedly below its average productiveness. Pulse crops are for the most part inferior. Potatoes have promised better, but are more diseased than they have been for several years. The hay crop is good, and unusually well got. Turnips are generally inferior. Mangel wurzels generally good. In the south of England, nearly all the corn is carried, and shows a most satisfactory yield. In the midland districts harvest work has made great progress, and is daily extending northwards. In Ireland, since 1826, there has not been so favorable a season as the present, and a week or so more of the brilliant weather which has been during August is all that is wanted to realize the prospect of an early and abundant harvest. There are no longer any complaints of failure in the potato crop, the symptoms of blight which had shown themselves in some localities in the course of last month having entirely disappeared. In Scotland, the harvest operations are now general, and the weather continues to be most favorable for hardening the grain. The crop will be an average one. Potato disease has shown itself in the north of Scotland, but is not likely to become anything like general.

The case of John Doherty, the failed produce broker, was brought before the Liverpool police court. The charge was that he obtained two acceptances of £2950 from Bingham & Co., corn merchants, by falsely representing that a certain bill of lading which he presented was a negotiable instrument, when, in fact, a duplicate of it had previously been deposited with Hubbard & Co., for another advance. Steering clear of technical questions raised by counsel, the magistrate said he should only look at the substantial matters disclosed, and held the prisoner for trial at the assizes, requiring bail in £2,000.

The pleasure hunting of the royal family of England is the subject of criticism in the English papers. The Massacre of Cawnpore.—We have nothing in the way of details as to this terrible transaction; but the London Times of August 28 describes Nana Sahib as the fiend who dragged 132 European fugitives, chiefly women and children, from boats on the Ganges to the parade-ground of Cawnpore, and there murdered the whole in one helpless mass; and adds, that, having a second opportunity of the same kind, he has made the same use of it. At the date of the first affair it was said that he had a very large force, the nucleus being a body of armed men, with artillery though known to be a bitter enemy of British rule, and with what he considered a strong private grievance. After repeating the language of the telegraphic dispatch in regard to the garrison being obliged to surrender in consequence of famine, the Times says:

We will own to a melancholy satisfaction in the thought that, by the breach of this capitulation, we are now at liberty to deal with Nana Sahib according to all the laws of peace and of war. We are not bound to consider under any obligation or in any sort of covenant with the deliberate murderer of more than a hundred women and children. It is difficult, indeed, to imagine how Sir H. Wheeler, or the surviving officer in command, could trust such a man or wish to enter into terms with him. On this point we hope to be better informed than we are. But, whatever that may be, Nana Sahib has released us from all obligations; and if he, or one of his gang, escapes, we must not only be because the bullet or the bayonet has been before-hand with it. We trust that England will spare no cost of men or money to vindicate justice and humanity upon the person of this savage and his myrmidons. Extraordinary crimes require extraordinary penalties; and, if we mean to sustain the British rule of human nature itself, in any of its forms, we must make an example of the men who have offered these affronts upon it. We occasionally hear whispers about cheap sentences or mercy to rindians justice and humanity ever we may desire for their souls, it is a plain matter of business what we have to do with their bodies, and not only India, but the world, will be intolerable if we neglect our duty to them. Nothing else will tell on the Mahomedans or the Hindoos. For our religion, for our teaching and preaching, they have an utter contempt. Fortunately they are not to be held to be, and we are not bound to consider them as such. Indeed, we have heard lately some earnest remonstrance against the application of this process to persons so keenly sensitive of its disgrace. That renders it peculiarly adapted for the purpose in hand, and we must follow the followers of Mahomet and the worshippers of Vishu is that, whatever their creed or their caste, we treat murderers as we do dogs, and in all moral respects rate them a good deal lower.

Among the military officers killed at Cawnpore, on the 24th of June, were Brigadier Jack, Col. Williams, Col. Lindsay, Major Prout, Sir George Parker, Col. Quinn, Lieut. Redman, Ensign Supple, Capt. Halliday, Capt. Reynolds, Lieut. Poole, Mr. Smith, Col. Eckford, Dr. Dempster, Capt. Jarvis, and Dr. Challin.

At the battle of Agra, on the 5th of July, the following officers were killed: Capt. Thomas, Capt. Dabry, Lieut. Lamb, Pond, and Fellows; and of the civil service, Messrs. O'Connor, C. Horn, P. Horn, Carlton, Smith, Jordan, Peckergat, W. E. Fox, Black, Buchanan, Freese, Outram, Oldfield, and Dewes. Capt. Bishop, Dr. Graham, and Rev. Mr. Hunter, wife and child, were massacred. Brigadier Brind was wounded.

The Times, of the 29th, in an article on the "one sad subject that weighs upon every British bosom," trusts that nothing short of necessity will be allowed to limit the scale of the armament for the east. "We have not merely to reconquer strong positions and extensive districts, not merely to destroy some fifty regiments of treacherous and cowardly mutineers, not merely to chastise and terrify into submission independent princes, numerous contingents, crowds of irregulars, whole tribes of robbers and murderers, and a population naturally and by the sword; but, more than all, we have to perform in the eyes of the world, and for the benefit of the human race, a tremendous act of vengeance. England, religion, and civilization have received the most intolerable insult that Mahomedan fanaticism could devise in a systematic series of deliberate brutalities on European women and children."

The Times insists upon this and more. It demands that the outrages committed on the "women and unmarried girls who fell into the hands of the mutineers and populace of Delhi, who were carried in procession for hours through the chief thoroughfare of the city, with every horror that could degrade them in the eyes of the people, previous to the last brutalities and cruelties that then, in the sight of thousands, were perpetrated on them," shall be avenged; that not a stone of that city be left upon another; that "Delhi should for the future be only known in history as Sodom and Gomorrah." All Asia, the Times thinks, will be wiser for the example of the entire destruction of the Mogul empire.

France.—The Empress Eugenie at a Duik Fight.—On Sunday, the 23d of August, the Empress Eugenie visited Bayonne to attend a bull fight in the Faubourg of St. Esprit, where these sports have been held for the last few years. The King of Wurtemberg was also present at the humanizing amusement, so dear to all Spaniards, and consequently to Her Majesty of the French. Two animals were killed, after undergoing the usual process of torture, to the apparent satisfaction of the amateurs, and as a similar pleasure was about to be afforded by a third bullfight, a heavy thunder storm came on, at once interrupting the sport. A number of the spectators rushed for shelter to the gallery or platform where the musicians were stationed, which was, excepting the boxes occupied by dignitaries, the only spot covered in the arena.

This structure, which was unusually fragile, gave way beneath the weight of the hundreds who pressed upon it, and all were precipitated to the ground. A great panic arose, and it was at first feared that several persons were killed, but it soon appeared that only one was crushed to death, although several had limbs fractured. The manager of the bull-ring thought that the disaster would release him from presenting the rest of his animals. But the crowd insisted on the continuance of the "sport," and, no bull making his appearance, fell to tearing up benches, breaking down barriers, and demolishing everything they could lay their hands on. The Empress, whose sensibilities were only pleasantly affected by the inhuman torture of the bulls, became disgusted with the unexpected scene, and retired, but the rioters continued their uproar, and it was not till called on to disperse them.

Whether the Empress will again patronize Sunday bull-fights is not stated. It is said that the Emperor is strongly opposed to them, and desires to introduce a more thorough observance of the Sabbath in France; but his wife is a strong-minded woman.

In Paris, the liberty of the press is regulated by a Board of Government Directors, and it appears that this Board have ordered Monsieur the editor of the Assemblée Nationale into his august presence, and told him he must change the name of his paper. The editor had the liberty to comply, and he presented a new name for the decision of the Government. In France, there is something in a name.

THE MASONIC PRESENTATION.—At half-past two, yesterday afternoon, a procession of Masons was organized at Masonic Hall, on Exchange street, to proceed to St. James Hall for the purposes of a public presentation of testimonials to distinguished officers of the State and National Encampments of Knight Templars. The procession was arranged in the following order:

Sir Knight Vice, Captain General, of Lake Erie Commandery, Master of the day, of the 5th Regiment, Subordinate L. dges. Chapters, Knight Templars, Grand Officers of State Encampment of Knight Templars, Grand Officers of Grand Encampment of U. S.

The appearance of the procession as it passed up Main street was brilliant. The splendid regalia of the Knights, with their numerous badges, and other insignia, gave it a very lively appearance, and the number of old and distinguished citizens in the ranks attracted special notice. On arriving at Saint James Hall, the ranks were reversed, the rear of the procession passing first into the Hall, under an arch formed by the swords of the Knights, the band meanwhile playing.

Sir Knight Vice announced the opening of the exercises by prayer by Rev. Sir Knight O. F. Starkey, Grand Chaplain. The prayer was simply the Lord's Prayer, recited by all the Knights, reverentially standing with doffed helmets.

Sir Knight Vice, of Kentucky, then made the presentation address. It was an elegant and forcible statement of the feelings of the order toward the Hon. Wm. B. Hubbard, M. E. Grand Master of Knight Templars in the United States. Mr. Morris said that at the triennial convocation at Hartford, last year, the Grand Master who had guided their action for nine years preceding had declined a reelection; but on the urgent solicitation of his brethren had reconsidered that decision, and allowed himself to assume the insignia of office for another term of three years. The speaker alluded in glowing terms to the affection which had so long existed between the Grand Master and his subordinate Encampments, during a term of faithful service, in which he had received no reward save the Mason's wages, "the gratitude of the craft and the approval of God," as the motive which had induced the Grand Encampment of the U. S. to order the presentation of a honorarium for long and distinguished services. This occasion, the meeting of the Grand Commandery of New York, had been selected as the proper time for the fulfillment of that pleasing duty.

In the course of his remarks Sir Knight Morris alluded eloquently to the history of the order, and especially to its Christian character, pledged to the maintenance of charity, hospitality, and chivalric maxims. He closed with these words:

"The inscription upon the jewel is 'In Hoc Signo Vinces.' Presented to Hon. William B. Hubbard, M. E. Grand Master of Knights Templar of the United States. A testimonial from the Grand Encampment of the United States, ordered September, 1856, A. O. 738."

"In Hoc Signo Vinces! Says it not well, Sir Knights? No other name is given us under heaven whereby man may be saved but His! In this sign, through this emblem, by this symbol, thou shalt conquer."

"In the name and by the command of the M. E. Grand Encampment of the United States, I now present you, M. E. Grand Master Wm. B. Hubbard, with this Patriarchal Cross of gold. Accept it as an honest though feeble testimonial of our gratitude, and as a remembrance of the many warm and devoted friends with whom, in your official capacity, you have been associated."

"And may the Gracious Father of us all long uphold you in a career of usefulness and happiness and bless the labors of our valiant and magnanimous Order until all the nations of the world shall be the kingdoms of His Son!"

The jewel thus presented is a Patriarchal Cross, a magnificent piece of workmanship, of solid gold, and has in the centre a diamond which cost $50. The cost of the whole was $300. It was manufactured by Ayers, of New York, to the order of the Grand Encampment of the United States, expressly for presentation to Grand Master Hubbard. The most eminent Grand Master made a reply full of eloquent expressions of gratitude for the honor bestowed upon him, and replete with historical information of the organization of the Knights, of the relation subsisting between Templary and Masonry proper, coupled with paternal advice and exhortation to younger Masons. The spirit of Christianity, of humble but confident trust in Him whose symbol is the symbol of the Order, was the most prominent feature in his appropriate and well-timed reply.

When the Grand Master had resumed his seat, a testimonial was presented to Past Grand Commander John W. Simons, of the New York Grand Commandery, by the hands of Sir Knight John L. Lewis, Jr., of the Yonkers. The testimonial was a diploma in the form of a beautifully illuminated cross. Both the speeches, of the bestower and the recipient, were eloquent and apposite to the event. This testimonial was ordered by the State Grand Commandery.

The benediction was then pronounced by Rev. Sir Knight E. H. Cressey.

A PLAN TO CLEAR THE NORTH RIVER OF HEAVY ICE.—Capt. A. H. Schultz is about to propose to the underwriters, shipping merchants, and owners of ferries lying between this city and adjacent places, a plan for keeping the North river free from large masses of ice during the coming winter. It is well known that all the ice obstructions in the East river and every part of the harbor are caused by the drift of extensive fields from the North river, so that if the ice in that stream can be thoroughly chopped up in its way down, not only the river will be rendered navigable during the winter, but all the water about the city will be kept open. Capt. Schultz offers to do this for the sum of about $50,000, with the proviso that he shall not get any of the money unless he performs all that he promises. Should the requisite amount be subscribed by the parties interested, he will cut out four steamboats especially for the business, and keep them in constant use, or in readiness for it whenever occasion requires. He does not propose to cut the ice, for that way it is so thick as to defy separation in that way, but to break it into fragments by the weight of the boat, which is brought to bear upon it by means of a false bow constructed in the shape of a table spoon, extending for some distance beyond the real bow, and having the effect to slide the boat upon the ice until it breaks beneath the weight. This plan has been successfully tried on several boats owned or commanded by Capt. Schultz. With the four boats he hopes to be able to crush the field ice as fast as it forms in the North river, and to disperse it whenever it freezes over again in the other waters above the city.

Queer Diet for Old Gentlemen.—"The first time I caught sight of milk in a Chinese street, it was in the hands of a female carrying a cup of what I thought to be the genuine unaltered article." "Excuse me, but what is that," said I. "It is milk," she replied. "What milk—cow's or goat's?" "Woman's milk, sir." "Woman's milk, for what use?" "It has been bought for an aged invalid." "And what's the price of that cupful?" "About eighty cents for nursing women to sell their own milk for motherless babies or octogenarians in second babyhood, the nurses drawing their own milk to vend it at 2d or 3d a cup."—Mine's Life in China

WHITE TEETH, PERFUMED BREATH, AND BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION.—Can be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when the using "BALM OF A THOUSAND FLOWERS" as a dentifrice, would not only sweeten the breath, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate their friends will never mention it. Beware of counterfeits. Be sure each bottle is signed FETTERIDGE & CO., N. Y.

Dr. King's Dispensary.

Dr. KING, a practitioner of New York for the last thirty years, has opened a Dispensary on Market, between First and Second, nearly opposite the Graham House, Louisville, for the treatment of Private Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Syphilis, and all diseases of the skin and other derangements growing out of neglect or imperfect cure. His long experience and success enable him to act with confidence. All those who may confide their cases to him may rest assured of having the disease effectually cured and every vestige of the difficulties perfectly eradicated from their constitutions.

Structures of old or recent date effectually cured in a few days by an operation which causes no pain. Where a stricture exists, general derangement of the whole constitution must ensue, a continuance of which will bring on a train of symptoms to be dreaded, and will undermine the constitution and cause premature old age.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.—Particular attention will be given to this disease and all the consequences growing out of it, brought on, in many cases, by the destructive habits of immoderate youth and excessive indulgence of the passions, which undermine the constitution, rendering the subject unfit for either business or society, and causing premature old age.

Persons afflicted, by writing and stating their cases, will be enclosed (post paid), can have the medicine sent to their address, with necessary directions for using the same.

The strictest secrecy observed in all cases. s11 j&b Dr. King's Dispensary from 9 o'clock in the morning until 9 in the evening. 08 weekly

HOLLAND BITTERS

THIS CELEBRATED HOLLAND REMEDY FOR DYSPEPSIA,
DISEASE OF THE KIDNEYS,
LIVER COMPLAINT,
WEAKNESS OF ANY KIND
FEVER AND AGUE,
And the various affections consequent upon a disordered STOMACH OR LIVER.

Such as Indigestion, Acidity of the Stomach, Colicky Pains, Heartburn, Loss of Appetite, Dependancy, Costiveness, Bile and Bleeding Piles. In all Nervous, Rheumatic, and Neuralgic Affections, it has in numerous instances proved highly beneficial, and in others effected a decided cure.
This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared strictly according to principles, after the manner of the celebrated Holland Professor, Boerhave. Because of its great success in most of the European States, its introduction into the United States was rendered more expedient for those of our fatherland scattered here as it drew over the face of this mighty country. Meeting with great success among them, I now offer it to the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful medicinal virtues must be acknowledged.
It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitution may have been injured by the continuous use of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in its effect, it finds its way directly to the seat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping spirits, and, in fact, infusing new health and vigor in the system.
NOTICE.—Whoever expects to find this a beverage will be disappointed, but to the sick, weak, and weary, it will prove a grateful aromatic cordial, possessed of singular remedial properties.

CAUTION.
The great popularity of this delightful Aroma has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing. Be not deceived in buying anything else until you have given Boerhave's Holland Bitters a fair trial. One bottle will convince you how infinitely superior it is to all these imitations.

C. is one of the finest low-water packets afloat. Mr.
M. C. Foster, her attentive clerk, has our thanks for a copy of the manifest and papers. She will leave for New Orleans to-morrow.

In another column we publish an order from the Mayor, which has been served on the managers of the Mechanics' Institute, protesting against the assembly of negroes at their hall this evening, and instructing the police to prevent it. The Mayor says he ordered a similar notice to be served on the managers of the Masonic Hall last week, which was disregarded. This is correct. The managers of the Masonic Hall took legal advice on the subject, and on the strength of it disregarded the Mayor's proclamation. In the present case, however, he is determined, whether right or wrong, to enforce his order, for he instructs the police to act "as in the peaceful suppression of unlawful assemblies;" that is, to prevent the negroes from going into the hall.
We do not see the necessity at this time for such an order. The ordinances upon which it is probably based have long been dead letters upon the statute books, and, if they are to be revived, notice of such intention should be previously given by the authorities. This would prevent any disobedience on the part of citizens and the conflict of opinions which appears at present to exist.

POLICE PROCEEDINGS.—Monday, September 14.
Jacob Brown, a free negro, recently purchased the freedom of his wife from H. M. Weatherford. He is now a drunken, dissolute character, and abuses his family, but was discharged.

Frank Barr, Isaac Percy, Frank Fobin, and Chas.
Lehy were intoxicated. Percy was discharged and the remainder held to bail in $200 for three months each.

Virginia Hill was, to the disgrace of her sex, drunk, and ignorant of her own best interests, stoned and broke the windows of her house. Workhouse two months.

James Heffner became drunk and was performing the duties of a watchman until Officer Cross arrested him. Workhouse three months.

Frank Stein, Joseph Schwartz, and Chas. Gerber had procured a horse and buggy, gone to the country, and, coming down Broadway, ran over a small negro boy and mule, the property of Mr. Chickering. The boy was slightly injured, but the mule was killed. Bail in $300 to keep the peace six months.

Pat, alias Frank Brannan, was too free with his tongue in the court-house, and fined $1.

MOLASSES FROM INDIAN CORN.—A Mr. Geo. S.
Kintzi, of Exeter, Berks county, Pa., has, according to the Reading Gazette, succeeded in procuring an excellent quality of molasses from the common Indian corn. He took eight corn stalks, cut off at the root and at the ear, crushed them in a cider mill, and pressed the juice out with his hands. A quart of sap was thus obtained, which after boiling thirty minutes, yielded one pint of beautiful syrup.

Hon. James L. Aileon and Col. Samuel Benton having declined, E. M. Yerger is now the nominee of the American party for Governor of Mississippi.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Sept. 12, 1857.

To JAMES KIRKPATRICK, Chief of Police:
Please cause, substantially, the like prohibition in writing to be made out and delivered to the managers of the Mechanics' Fair that I caused the Assistant Chief, Mr. Ehrick, to serve on the managers of the Masonic Temple Fair, against the assembly of free negroes and slaves in the Fair building on Monday or any other coming night.

The social condition of our people must be maintained. Whites and blacks must sustain the position the law fixes for each class. Blacks cannot legally assemble in any place or house in this city except in such house or place fixed and licensed by the General Council. The General Council has not fixed and licensed any house or place for the assembly of colored persons, except for public divine worship. Let the managers be notified. Let colored persons be warned (from attending) at the door of the Fair on the night it is opened for them. If the managers, after this notice, shall persist in disregarding this injunction, let the police act in this matter as in the peaceful suppression of unlawful assemblies. Let not the reprehensible conduct of the managers of the Masonic Fair be looked upon as a precedent. Let the managers of the Mechanics' Fair, as good citizens, stand by law and order, and sustain the authorized officer of the city in the discharge of his duty. I hope a copy of this notice served on the managers, and published on Monday morning in the Louisville Journal, will be sufficient to prevent this unlawful assembly of colored persons without further interposition of the police of the city.

W. S. PILCHER, Mayor.

[From the N. Y. Post, Thursday, P. M.]
MRS. CUNNINGHAM IMPEACHED BY THE GRAND JURY—THE INDICTMENT.—This morning the grand jury came in, and their foreman, Phileas H. Holt, handed to the clerk a true bill for feloniously producing a false heir, against Emma Augusta Burdell, niece of Harvey Burdell, alias Emma Augusta Burdell. We have received a printed copy of the indictment, which is of great length.

There are ten distinct counts. The first count states who are the legal heirs of the late Harvey Burdell, in accordance with the late decision of the Surrogate, and charges that the defendant on the 4th of August, 1857, did, knowingly, fraudulently, and feloniously, produce a living infant, and did then and there feloniously, and falsely pretend that the said infant was the child of, and had been born of parents who were respectively to-wit: her, the said Emma Augusta Cunningham, otherwise called Emma Augusta Burdell, as the legitimate mother of the said infant child, and him, the aforesaid Harvey Burdell, as its legitimate father and by him lawfully begotten in his life time of the body of her said Emma Augusta, in lawful wedlock; whereas, in truth and in fact, as she, the said Emma Augusta, then and there well knew, the said infant as aforesaid, by her feloniously produced and falsely pretended, was not the child of the said parents or of either of them, but was in truth and in fact born of the body of one Elizabeth Ann Anderson.

The count further alleges that, if the child had been born as she pretended, it would have been entitled to inherit the estate of Dr. Burdell.

The succeeding counts all charge the same offense. One refers particularly to the attempt to intercept the inheritance of Dr. Burdell's property in Bond street, in Herkimer, and elsewhere; another relates the "production" of the

H. Duncan, a man in very moderate circumstances, who is on his way to the West with his family, lost his pocket-book last Saturday evening, on Main street, near the Galt House. The find^r will be handsomely rewarded by leaving it at Mr. Blanchard's, corner of Main and Second streets.

The American Express office at Madison, Wisconsin, was robbed, on the night of the 8th, of money and papers amounting to $12,000, to $15,000. Of it, $4,000 were in gold, $5,000 in bonds, and the balance in mixed currency.

THE LEXINGTON FAIR.—This splendid exhibition closed on Friday with the finest display of saddle and buggy horses ever seen in America. It was a sight worth traveling a thousand miles to witness. Over twelve thousand persons were in attendance, and the amphitheater was densely crowded with all the blooming beauty of that lovely Paradise of Kentucky.

In the open ring for mares, with nineteen beautiful and spirited competitors, Mr. G. D. Hunt's animal took the premium. She is said to be, by the very best judges, the finest mare in the West. It would be difficult to find her equal anywhere.

We are indebted to our attentive friend W. E. Milton, Esq., of this city, who proved an efficient Assistant Secretary at Lexington, for the subjoined list of premiums awarded on Friday:

DR. CATLIN—He professes Seclusion to Ball, and Philosophically Seeks Retirement.—Now that Mrs. Cunningham has succeeded in getting her right to bail acknowledged, the inquiry has been raised, what is to become of Dr. Catlin, and is he not also to be set free? On the first discovery of the "baby fraud," it will be recollected, he turned State's evidence, since which time he has been detained in the Tombs as a witness, keeping himself very secluded and seeing little company. In consequence of this aversion which he manifested toward exhibiting himself to gratify the curiosity of the public, all sorts of rumors have been circulated about his having made startling disclosures to the District Attorney touching the whole history of the yet undeveloped Burdell mystery.

These rumors, it is scarcely necessary to say, are entirely without foundation. Dr. Catlin has not confessed to the District Attorney that he personated Burdell in the marriage, or that he knows anything about the murder. He is detained in the Tombs merely as a witness in behalf of the State against Mrs. Cunningham in the matter of the attempt to produce a bogus baby. Neither is it true, as our reporter is authorized to state, that the District Attorney permits no one to see him. On the contrary, any proper person is now, and has been, so far as the District Attorney is concerned, allowed to visit him at all reasonable hours; but Dr. Catlin himself is not anxious to receive visitors.

The truth is, the Doctor is something of a philosopher, and like all philosophers, he appreciates the benefits, and even the necessity, at certain critical periods of life, of retiring for a while from the tumult and bustle of the world, and indulging in a retrospective glance at the past. One of those critical periods he freely acknowledges has arrived in his case; and, having found himself in a comfortable cell in the Tombs, instead of resorting to the habeas corpus, and getting some friend to bail him out, so that he may the more publicly expose himself, he calmly sits down on his wooden stool, lights his fragrant Havana, and while he watches its curling vapors, indulges in profitable meditation upon the sinfulness of man, the artfulness of woman, and the funny and foolish aspect of all things in general.

"Why should I wish to get out," says he; "my character is gone, my business in Brooklyn is broken up, my wife has left me; I have neither money nor friends, and I do not care to expose myself to the derision of my enemies. Besides, I have long had a desire to live for a time the life of a recluse, and although the Tombs is not the most desirable place in the world, yet I am well treated here, and do not find it at all uncomfortable. No, sir, I have not made any efforts to get bail, and shall not. I don't know that I could get bail if I would, and I am certain I wouldn't if I could. I shall remain here, contented until I have given my evidence in the case for which I am detained as a witness, and then I intend to start immediately for Australia."

The Doctor was taken before the grand jury yesterday, it being the first time he has been outside the Tombs since his incarceration. He takes his daily walk upon the corridors, and is allowed all the privileges usually granted to prison witnesses. He certainly forms one exception to the hardships so commonly dished out of keeping the witness in prison while the criminal is allowed to go free. There are cases where freedom would be a curse, unless it were enjoyed in exile, and Dr. Catlin seems to be one of them.

RECEIPTS OF THE UNITED STATES AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY—KENTUCKY HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY—PROPOSITION MODIFIED.

Messrs. Editors: I have read with much interest your proposition in regard to "Floral Hall," and feel scarcely less equal to allow that it would be a sort of vandalism to allow that edifice to be removed from the fair grounds, it being at once the general theme of praise for its beautiful architectural proportions and for its striking effect as a feature in the landscape. A desire to preserve this building, and at the same time to secure a fair equivalent to the United States Agricultural Society and save Louisville and Jefferson county from the shame of a failure, when the sole management of the fair was confided to their citizens, should actuate every well wisher of the city and county. And it is with this intent, as well as to place rightly before the public the position of the Kentucky Horticultural Society, I write.

Your statement is substantially correct. The Kentucky Horticultural Society, in order to insure a fair degree of protection to the orchard, the kitchen, and flower garden, both in the national exhibition just closed and in all future local exhibitions by the S. W. A. Society, did propose, on certain conditions, to aid in the erection of such a building—but this proposition was declined, so that the Horticultural Society stands unpledged, though ready to act whenever such action promises to result in good. The Kentucky Horticultural Society is not an endowed institution, and for being free from debt, with a small fund at interest, it is indebted to the prudence and economy of a small band of faithful friends and the liberality of fortuitous visitors at its weekly and stated exhibitions in Louisville. So that whatever is done by either local Society, must be done through the agency of private munificence, and the whole matter resolves itself into this: "What is the best direction for the donor to give to his bounty with a view to promote the interests of the community whereof he is a member?"

One method suggested is to purchase and transfer to the S. W. A. & M. Association, the purchasers to have scrip for the amount. This is objectionable; first, because it increases the free tickets or dead-heads, thereby lessening revenue. And, again, because it does not secure the co-operation of the Horticultural Society, whose aid is probably necessary to turn the building to good account.

Another mode of action spoken of is to purchase the buildings and donate them unconditionally to the Agricultural Society. This course I think still more objectionable, because there can hardly exist a reason why the man who adds $50 to the value of the grounds to-day, should have fewer privileges than he who has only added $50 to their value up to this date. In truth, among all the schemes I have heard of, yours, with some modifications, seems most prolific in advantages—which is the endowment of the Kentucky Horticultural Society by the purchase of local memberships. My belief is that the wants of Louisville and vicinity demand a change in the management of our local Agricultural Society. Cattle and mules—interests which are not of us or with us—are too much courted and flattered in our schedules of premiums, whilst the great local interest—manufactures, the kitchen garden and the orchard—are slighted and ignored, and I doubt the speedy coming of any change for the better, unless those directly concerned take the matter in hand.

In cities, fruits and garden vegetables, are articles of prime necessity. Among the world of farmers they occupy secondary positions, to be cared for only when the staples of revenue for the husbandman demand nothing at his hands. And this low estimate of the orchard prevails in even liberal communities. Thus, in Missouri, where a single society dispenses $16,000 in premiums, and gives to individual animals in some classes three hundred silver dollars, if a Hovey, a Walker, or a Wilder should compete in the orchard department with a contribution of four hundred varieties of the pear, and if either should compete successfully, why his labors would be rewarded by the bestowment of the pitiful sum of five hundred copper jacks!

Argument, when we need action, is out of place. I therefore proceed to my modification of your plan, which is: That Isaac Everett, Benj. J. Adams, Jas. Guthrie, Wm. Watkins, Thomas H. Hunt, E. D. Holboe, and Arthur Pratt, a committee to take subscriptions of shares of fifty dollars each, one share to be worth a life membership in the Kentucky Horticultural Society. The books to be kept open until a fund be raised which will not only secure the hall but also the "Harrison Grove," if it be bought at a fair price. I know several gentlemen in the country who will give fifty dollars for the latter object, and one farmer has named the sum of five hundred dollars. With how much more reason ought we to calculate on Louisville for this aid, if it should be, these grounds were kept open for summer drives from the city. Another privilege might be held out as an inducement to the wealthy to invest, to-wit: the privilege, under sanction of a board, to erect a light pavilion in the grove for his exclusive use whenever one individual held ten shares or more.

These are simple suggestions, and whether the donors endow the Horticultural Society, whose indications would lead them to favor the objects proposed, or whether they endow the Agricultural Society, constraining the same by covenant to extend the proper patronage to the same objects, I shall be satisfied. There must be a perfect understanding and the most perfect good will on all concerned to ensure success; and if this result follows our efforts, I am indifferent as to the road by which we reach an end so desirable. A MEMBER.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 12, P. M.

The following important information regarding the Trust Company is given in the money market of the Commercial this morning. It has produced a great sensation:

A good deal has been said, and some indignation manifested, because the directors have not, up to the present time, made any statement of the affairs of the New York office. The directors here are now (and we speak advisedly) about as ignorant of the affairs of that office as they were the day after the suspension took place. And we should regard it as a most difficult thing for them to make a statement, when they have nothing to state. They appointed a committee composed of two of our well-known citizens to investigate the affairs of the New York office.

When that committee arrived in New York, it found the accounts of the office in the greatest confusion, and Mr. Ludlow, the cashier, refused to give any information whatever, so as to enable the committee to arrange the accounts. In this refusing, he said he was acting under advice of counsel. He since, however, has condescended to impart a little information; but, as a general thing, the committee has to open a correspondence with the creditors and subscribers in order to enable them to trace out the accounts.

This course is necessarily tedious, and progresses made so far throw no light whatever upon the true state of matters, and the whole affair still presents as dark and gloomy an appearance as at any time since the suspension. These facts, based as they are upon the most reliable information, show clearly that the accounts of the New York office are in the most miserable condition, and the greater portion of them, no doubt, for the last few months, have been kept in the shape of memorandums.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 12, P. M.

The Mexican mails bring accounts of the continued existence of troubles between the civil and ecclesiastical powers. There have been further insults to the American Consul at Mazatlan, arising from the seizure of the American schooner Ada and insults to our officers and crew.

A new difficulty has arisen between the Government and the Charge d'Affaires on account of insults to the British flag during his absence. The revolutionists are gaining ground in Yucatan.

The steamer Philadelphia is coming up. The Central America left Havana for New York on the morning of the 8th inst.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.

A box belonging to Hactor & Fals, containing over $11,000 in notes and drafts, was stolen from the Philadelphia Bank. Payment stopped.

THE ALLEGED AMERICAN DUEL IN SOUTH AMERICA.—The following official account of this affair has been communicated to the State Department:

DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
Washington, Sept. 8, 1857.

As statements have been published in the newspapers in regard to the alleged duel between Francisco Moore and Francis, in the Napo region, Ecuador, resulting in the death of the latter, it is believed that the friends of both gentlemen will be interested in the following very different version of the catastrophe, communicated at the time of its occurrence, by the Ecuadorian Minister for Foreign Affairs to the Minister of the United States in Quito, by whom it was transmitted to this department:

"On the 19th of April, at 7 o'clock in the evening, Mr. Francis was seated at the door of the house which he occupied, together with his companion, Mr. Moore. The latter was in the dark and within the house, preparing his gun for the purpose of shooting a night-bird that had, on many previous occasions, perched on the roof of the building, and as he was fixing on a cap, the hammer fell, the gun went off, and wounded the unfortunate Mr. Francis. This is the account given of the occurrence in the declarations embodied in the preliminary examination conducted by the Governor in relation to the event. A copy of it is hereby transmitted, in order that the Minister may have a full knowledge of the circumstances.

From the representation of the Governor, the wound received by Mr. Francis is a very serious one, and likely to result in death. Extremely painful would it prove to the Government of Ecuador should this unfortunate occurrence be attended by such a result. For the purpose, therefore, as much as in its power lies, of warding off such a calamity, and of thus paying a tribute to science, giving a proof of the estimation in which the citizens of the great Republic are held, it has issued orders to the Governor of the Province of the East to spare no expense or sacrifice in endeavoring to save the precious life of the distinguished American naturalist, as will be seen, Mr. Minister, from the copy which you will find enclosed by this Department.

The following extract from a despatch received on the 4th inst., from the Minister of the U. S. in Ecuador, and dated July 17th, appears to preclude the idea that the death of Mr. Francis was the result of a duel:

"I now learn by letters from Messrs. Moore and Geo. C. Edwards that, after suffering intensely for some two months, Dr. Francis died of his wound on the 15th of June. Mr. Moore pursues the object of the exploration alone, and has proceeded down the Marañon and Amazon rivers."

DAILY REVIEW OF THE MARKET.
